FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

California-Based Plastic Package, Inc. Expands Manufacturing to Indiana

Sacramento, Ca (October 6, 2014) - Plastic Package, Inc., a manufacturer of food, confectionary, bakery and specialty packaging, is proud to announce plans to locate a new operation in La Porte, Indiana. The targeted start-up date is November of 2014.

“Our facility in California will continue as a significant factor in our strategic growth. The addition of the new facility will continue to enhance our ability to support current customers and grow in the Midwest,” said Mike Miller, President/CEO of Plastic Package, Inc.

“The City of La Porte is thrilled to welcome Plastic Package, Inc. to our business community. This partnership with our local companies is what makes La Porte a special place to do business”, said La Porte Mayor Blair Milo.

The new operations will start-up with several “state of the art” GN pressure formers and robots in a facility that provides great opportunity for growth. “We plan on moving some of our current business to Indiana where it makes strategic sense,” Miller added. “That will open up needed production capacity in our California operation.”

Over the years, Plastic Package, Inc. achieved success by focusing on strategic and long lasting relationships with clients. Owners Jim and Jennifer

Kaye stand behind the philosophy of service and solutions by implementing the newest available technologies while maintaining the highest level of service standards. The new Plastic Package operation will enhance and support this vision. “Strategically,” Miller added, “the new operation will put Plastic Package, Inc. in a position to grow and service businesses in several targeted regions of the Midwest and Northeast. We are extremely excited about the opportunity to be a part of a great community that embraces new business.”
